John Horan Appointed Civil Defense Head for Antioch by Mayor

Will Replace Edmundson Who Has Moved From The Village

John L. Horan, 407 Orchard st., has been appointed director of civil defense for Antioch by Mayor Jim McMillen with the approval of the village board.

He succeeds R. C. Edmundson, former high school principal, who now lives at Fox Lake.

Horan was summoned from his home at 10 p. m. Tuesday to take the loyalty oath which is necessary to the appointment.

Mayor McMillen said in announcing the appointment that he knew of no better man for the task than Horan.

The new director served in civilian defense during World War II, and has been a member of the Antioch Rescue Squad and Antioch Fire department.

No question as to his loyalty can be entertained in view of his activity in both local and district American Legion affairs.

Horan is employed at the Keystone printing co., Libertyville.

Village Board Moves To Subdivide Land East of Soo Line

Designated so far as Antioch across the village property east of the Soo Line tracks will soon be subdivided into 50-foot frontage acre lots ready for sale to the public.

The village board last evening employed Edward P. Cranley, local engineer, to survey and stake off the lots and it is estimated that 27 lots will be available in the high ground. He is to be paid $10 a lot for his work.

The surveying provides for a street that will connect up with Ida ave. west of the tracks.

It has been a hope of the trustees that light industry might be located south of the new subdivision and that the lots could be sold to employers.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Helen Newman, Chetek; a son, Frank Barber of Gurnee; a brother, Fred Wright, Druce lake; 11 grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Her husband, William Fred Barber, died in September, 1935.

The funeral service was held at 1 p. m. today at the Strang Funeral Home in Antioch with the Rev. G. Richard Tuttle of the Methodist church in charge. Burial was at Sand lake cemetery.

The place will be known as the Antioch Miniature Golf Course. Licenses for the construction of a 6x8 ft. supply building and an amusement license will be required.

Robert Horton was given permission to tap the village water line on North Ave., for a residence he plans to build on the north side of the highway. He is obliged to pay for a buffalo box and meter which will be within the village limits.

Mrs. George Garland has gone to Chicago for a physical check-up and her place as a teacher in the Antioch Grade school is being taken for a few days by Mrs. Albert Dittman.

Antioch Water Rates Cheapest in County; May Need An Increase

When trustees of the village began the study of increased water rates Tuesday evening to take care of the sinking of a new well and other improvements to the water and sewer systems, they found that Antioch has one of the lowest rates in the county.

In addition, the village is one of the few giving a discount for cash. Probabilities are that the board will increase the rate only by eliminating the discount and charging a penalty for failure to pay on time.

Two of the trustees gasped in surprise when they found how cheap some water users outside the village were getting their water.

Antioch Wins 49-33 Over Wauconda, But Loses to Libertyville

Ela-Vernon Varsity-Soph To Play Here Friday Evening

Antioch Township high school won its seventh conference game, 49-33 from Wauconda last Friday. The Sequoits jumped to an 11-0 lead in the first quarter and were never in serious trouble. They led 27-19 at the half. Bruce Stahmer, Bob Floyd and Ben Floyd spearheaded the attack for Antioch with 13, 12 and 10 points respectively.

Saturday night Antioch dropped a close, hard fought ball game to Libertyville, 60-53. Antioch led through all the first half and thru most of the third quarter. With but two minutes to go the teams were tied 50-50.

At this point Jim Pinkstaf and Doug Kay took over for Libertyville and quickly ran up the score. Missed free throws and some poor passing cost Antioch the ball game. Pinkstaf and Kay led the Libertyville scoring with 19 and 22 points each, while Ben and Bob Floyd counted with 18 and 14 points.

The Sophomores continued to roll over the week-end, beating Wauconda's underclassmen 44-26, and Libertyville 59-49. Mike Haviland, Warren Brownlee, Fred Clarke, and Chuck Davis all had good scoring nights. Dave Cain, Jack Palmer and Ken VanPatten continued to shine on defense.

Antioch will have its hands full with the Ela Bears Friday night. Last time the varsity defeated Ela 45-26 at Lake Zurich, but it must be remembered that Ela was way off on their shooting, making 9 baskets for a 13.4 shooting average. The games will be at Antioch, first game starting at 7:15.

Freshmen Lose to Grant
The freshman basketball team lost to Grant high school by a score of 42-35 Monday in an after-school game in the Antioch gym. The frosh will play Ela-Vernon next Monday.

Effect of the new disease were the discussion in all groups about the village. While the disease makes the victim quite sick, no deaths have resulted. Some who returned to normal life too early got pneumonia, however.

C. E. Hennings Wants Land Annexed and Zoned for Business

C. E. Hennings proposed to the village board Tuesday evening that the village annex his triangular plot of land east of rte. 59 and west of the old highway south of Harden street and zone it for business. A tip of it is already in the village.

The trustees countered with the proposal that his land west of the old road and that of the Public Service Co. and Barney Naber on the north be included to square off the area.

Hennings said he would see the other property owners on the matter. The village limit line now bisects the Public Service Co. land. The petitioner said he has no particular business project ready for the land but wants to prepare for it should the opportunity arise.

Trustees Will Study Financing Of New Well, Sewer, Feb. 17

Plan Improvement Through Revenue Bonds - No Referendum

Attention to the financing of the new water well and sewer project on village land east-of the Soo Line tracks will be given at an adjourned meeting of the village board Feb. 17.

President James McMillen gave to the trustees Tuesday evening a report of the engineer, David Miller, estimating the cost of construction of a well, a fire-proof pump house, an 8-inch water main connecting with the village system at Ida ave., and installation of a sewer system in the new subdivision area.

The well will be sunk at a point 50 feet south of the backstop of the Little League baseball diamond and an estimated 400 gallons of water a minute will be pumped into the village mains.

McMillen said that the improvement will be financed through revenue bonds, necessitating no referendum.

"We can sell revenue bonds up to $45,000, but the cost of this project will be far less than that," he assured the trustees.

The bonds would have been purchased at 4% by the bond house, Benjamin and Lang, Chicago, but the 90-day option has run out and now that firm says the municipal bond market is flooded and it will take more interest to dispose of the bonds. The trustees will shop around a little before paying more interest.

Engineer Miller advised that the village use the best of equipment and materials for the water well, mains and pump house, as being more economical in the long run. He advised an 8-inch main to connect with the village 6-inch main, saying that the Ida street connection is far enough distant from the well to provide a friction loss and at the same time provides a split in the flow of water to accommodate for the reduction in the size of pipe.

Miller will be instructed to prepare plans and specifications at once for the project and although these will not be done this month, the board will in the meantime clear the financial way.

The Crown Realty Co. which plans annexation of its new subdivision on the north edge of Antioch to the village, and which is concerned with the new water supply, was not represented last evening and the ordinance providing for annexation was not brought up.

Opposition to the annexation plan was prepared but not expressed at the meeting.

Women Hear Story Of Early Galena From Evanstonians

Interesting facts about Galena, Ill. were told members of the Antioch Woman's club Monday afternoon by Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Stiles of Evanston, Ill., who used slides and miniatures to illustrate their information. The meeting was held at the Episcopal Guild hall.

Galena was a village when Chicago had but three houses they said. Large river boats plied the Mississippi river in travel to and from Galena, which as its name implies was a lead mining town. Refuse from the mines clogged the river and stopped boat travel.

Records of the architecture of the homes in Galena have been placed in the congressional library, Washington, D. C.

Hostesses for the occasion were Mesdames Loren Sexauer, chairman Howard Gaston, Clarence Gibbons, Einar Petersen, Henry Ruggles, E. Simons and Geo. Jaros.

The next meeting will be a pot-luck luncheon at the Guild hall the board supplying ham. Members will bring a dish to pass. They are asked also to bring their own wedding gowns which will be modeled. Mrs. L. V. Madden is chairman of the meeting with Mrs. Louis Bell as her assistant. Mrs. Walter Aschenbrenner will furnish music for the modeling.

YOU CAN'T EAT TAXES, BUT —

You can't eat taxes.
You can't wear taxes.
But you must pay more for federal taxes than you do for food and clothing combined!

In 1951, total federal, state, and local taxes, direct and hidden, came to $84,600,000,000, in the same year total food and clothing purchases added up to $81,000,000,000.

We have reached the point where the tax burden is the largest single item of expense to millions of American families. Many of us haven't yet realized this for the reason that a substantial part of all taxes are paid indirectly—that is, they are part of the price we pay for an automobile or a loaf of bread or a pair of shoes or a ticket to a show. But we pay the full bill just the same—whether the money is handed over directly to some tax-collecting agency or whether it is concealed in the cost of goods or services.

It is generally believed that the danger point to a nation's strength and vigor is reached when taxes account for 25 percent of the national income. Our taxes have left that figure far behind — about 33 percent of the national income goes for taxes. And no one should be foolish enough to still believe that we can pay the tax bill by soaking the rich. If we took 100 percent of the incomes of the rich it would pay the cost of government for only a few weeks out of the year.

You — the average man and woman — pay the tax bill. You will be the gainers if and when the cost of government is cut.

THE LOW DOWN FROM HICKORY GROVE

You know folks, us fair, fat, forty, and frisky, and young or old citizens who elected Ike-old-boy, have gotta lend a hand now — help him do what he said he would do his best to do. We can't leave him alone there — there are wolves still roaming the land — the ones who have had a big hand in throwing our U. S. A. for a loss. They gotta be sorted out and put in the ash can.

Gentleman Ike said at Abilene he wanted less Govt. in our diet. But here comes Uncle Harry's new budget with more and more Govt. in it. There is more dinero than ever in it for more dams to impound more water for irrigated land and bigger crops. And there is heap dinero on another page in the same budget to encourage smaller crops on our present farms in other sections of this broad and more or less addled land. If Ike doesn't need help, then I am addled myself and clean off the beam.

It is not hard to deduct that Uncle Ike is up to his chin Tell him via postcard, carrier pigeon or whatever is handy that you want Sambo to be himself again — just upire the game — get his hand out of your pocket. Cockeyed notions about big Govt. have been with us so long that they are chronic, deep seated — will take stout medicine to save the patient — such patient being you and yours truly sure as we are knee high to a coupla grasshoppers.

Yours with the low down,
JO SERRA

SHORT STORY

Another Good Crop

By James B. Holm

FARM FOLKS are always asking a squire for information and advice on law. Dave Tidwell was no exception.

Dave was a leathery faced man in his sixties. I was attracted by a peach tree on his place, then in full bearing. He gave me a few peaches.

Dave's place didn't look any too prosperous. He spoke of his dilapidated old car near the barn.

"I guess I'll never have money enough to buy a new one," he said. "Can't make anything on this place now."

I could see he had something else on his mind. Pretty soon he started to ask questions.

"Squire, who does money belong to if it's found hidden in a man's barn?"

"Why, I suppose it would belong to him, unless someone else could prove direct ownership," I told him.

I could see he had something else on his mind. Pretty soon he started to ask questions.

More questions were asked, rather cautiously. At length he said:

"I used to have a hired man named Obie Hart. Don't know if you ever heard of him or not. He's dead now. He was a good fellow."

"When he was a young man, he and his brother Sid lived around here. Obie got engaged to a girl but she threw him over for Sid. Obie always hated Sid for that and left home. Never spoke to Sid again. He came to work for me nearly forty years ago and stayed until last year when he died. I didn't pay him much but he saved his money. He didn't trust banks, either, and he never married."

"AFTER HE GOT sick last year Obie didn't live long. One day I was talking to him and he said, 'Dave, if anything happens to me I got money enough in my clothes to bury me. Better get it right now—over there.' I did and we counted it out. He acted like he wanted to tell me something more, but all he ever said was that he didn't want Sid to have anything of his."

"A few days later Obie died. The money wasn't quite enough to bury him, but that was all right. I paid the balance. Sure enough, Sid came snooping around, inquiring about Obie's money. I told him what I knew but I guess he didn't believe me. Argued on it and huffed and puffed. Was real ugly about it, too. He claimed Obie's clothes and watch. Probably his by law anyhow. I couldn't prove anything different, could I?"

"Now here a couple of weeks ago I was working in the barn and came across a wad of ten dollar bills stuck away in a mortise slot. Wasn't a great deal. I don't know who put it there. Who does the money belong to?"

"Dave," I said, "I can't advise you, but if it had been me that found it, I wouldn't do any hunting for an owner. It's your barn, isn't it?"

We looked at each other with the light of understanding between us.

"I don't know if there's any more there or not," said Dave. "As I said, I don't know what Obie did with his money. He must have accumulated quite a little in forty years. He may have done something with it I don't know about, or anyone. Anyhow, he liked to be alone around the barn a great deal."

"Dave," I said, "what people don't know won't hurt them. If I found any money in my barn I would regard it as another good crop. If anyone thought different, it would be up to him to prove his claim."

Dave looked satisfied. "I guess I can trust you, can't I, squire?"

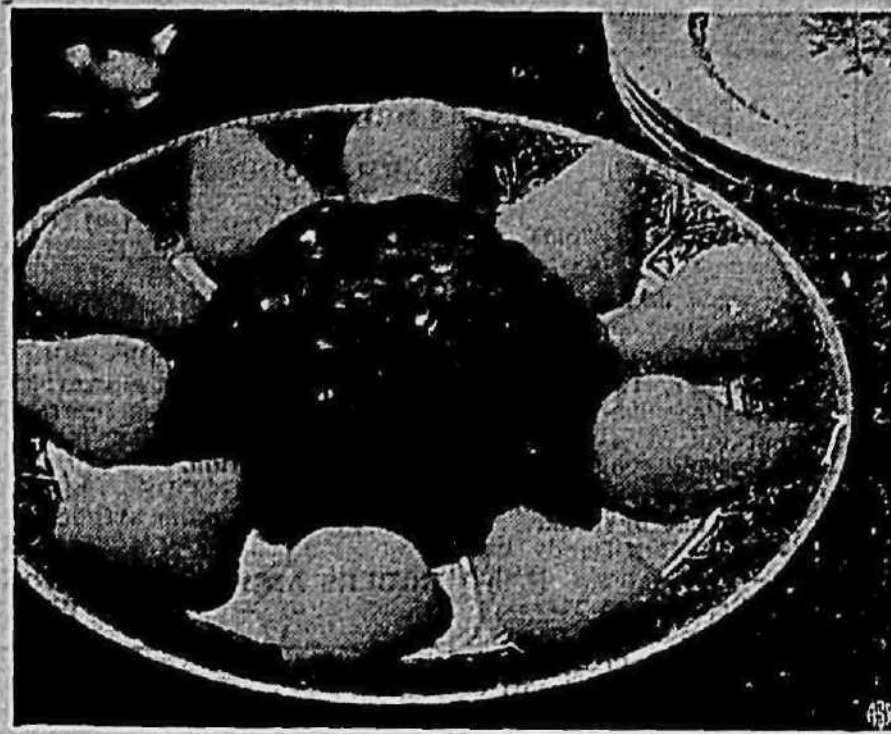

I forgot all about the matter until a year later. Then Dave Tidwell came to my office carrying a half bushel basket of peaches.

"These are some of the peaches you liked so well, squire," he said. "I had another nice crop this year. Matter of fact, all crops were good this year. No charge. My regards."

The look he gave me was a peculiar, knowing one and confidential like.

I looked out my window and saw Dave drive away. He was driving a nice new automobile. It was a make that must have cost twenty-five hundred dollars or more.

Drooly Dessert For Winter Days

Chocolate and pears are favorites together. Here rich, velvety smooth Chocolate Mousse is teamed with succulent canned pear halves to make a handsome, delicious dessert duet.

Don't let the title "mousse" frighten you, for it's really easy to make. The gelatine chocolate base is allowed to thicken slightly and whipped to fluffiness; whipped cream is added; and then it is turned into the mold to chill in the refrigerator until serving time. Unmold it on a platter and surround with the chilled canned pear halves.

Chocolate Mousse With Pears

1 envelope unflavored gelatine 1½ teaspoons vanilla
¾ cup cold water Dash salt
½ cup powdered sugar ¼ teaspoon cinnamon
1½ squares unsweetened chocolate ½ pint whipping cream
¾ cup milk 1 No. 2½ can pear halves

Soak gelatine in water for 5 minutes. Combine sugar, chocolate and milk; heat over boiling water until chocolate is melted. Add the gelatine and beat with rotary beater until dissolved. Add vanilla, salt and cinnamon. Chill until slightly thickened and whip until fluffy. Fold in whipped cream. Put in a mold and chill until firm. Unmold on serving dish and surround with chilled pear halves. Six servings.

Mary Rose Webb Honored at Bridal Shower Thursday

Mrs. Thomas Somerville was the hostess at a bridal shower at her home Thursday evening in honor of Miss Mary Rose Webb.

The bride-to-be received many lovely gifts. The table was decorated in pale blue. The favors were made of pale blue sea shells and the miniature bride and groom with angels that decorated the table were the same that Mrs. Somerville used 25 years ago when she gave a bridal shower for Mary Rose's mother, then Miss Margaret Golden, who became the wife of Robert Webb.

A cake, decorated with white doves and gold hearts, was part of the lunch served by the hostess.

Miss Webb will become the bride of John Angor on Feb. 14.

Library News

The past year was a particularly fruitful one in the field of the short story and consequently Martha Foley's 1952 edition of "The Best American Short Stories" is an unusually fine collection. The stories are written with every sort of approach and technique and on such a wide variety of subjects that the book presents a panoramic view of recent American writing.

Margaret Boni has selected love songs, spirituals, patriotic songs, blues, and old-world songs that have become naturalized citizens for her "Fireside Book of Favorite American Songs." Delightful piano accompaniments were especially prepared by Norman Lloyd of the Juilliard School of Music. For family singing, groups, and schools, this book will be a treasure.

The above books were presented to the Antioch Township Library in memory of James E. Kopriva.

ALTAR AND ROSARY PLANS ST. PATRICK'S PARTY

The Altar and Rosary Society of St. Peter's church held its monthly meeting on Feb. 2 in the school hall. A new sewing group was formed which will concentrate on the sewing of new vestments and altar linens. Mrs. Antonette Kisel and Claire Gilday are co-chairmen of the group which will meet each Thursday at 12:30 in the church hall. Anyone who wishes to sew may join.

Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Runyard were guests Saturday of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Don Mulks, Elkhorn, Wis. The Runyards have recently returned from a trip to Florida and Texas.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

That the purpose of all existence should be constant progression with daily unfoldment of spiritual perfection, health and holiness, will be explained in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, February 8. The subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be SPIRIT.

The Golden Text is from John (4:24) "God is a Spirit; and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth."

Lesson-Sermon passages from the Bible (King James Version) include:

"No man hath seen God at any time. If we love one another, God dwelleth in us, and his love is perfected in us. Hereby know we that we dwell in him, and he in us, because he hath given us of his Spirit" (1 John 4:12, 13).

Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, include:

"Spirit is God, and man is His image and likeness. Therefore man is not material; he is spiritual. . . Everything in God's universe expresses Him. He is all-inclusive, and is reflected by all that is real and eternal and by nothing else. He fills all space, and it is impossible to conceive of such omnipresence and individuality except as Infinite Spirit or Mind. Hence all is Spirit and spiritual" (pp 468, 331)

SHORT STORY

Benny's Cow

By Eunice Thomas

If you ever saw Mama look at Benny you might know why she wanted a cow so bad. Benny was our second brother, twelve years old, and he looked like he might have been cut out of a scarecrow pattern. Ma a blamed it on not having milk.

But Daddy was always getting mad because Benny was afraid or wouldn't fight like the other boys. He said you couldn't blame it on milk. Then Mama's face got sort of tight and she said Benny needed it more than the others.

So, at last we got a cow. Uncle Hal brought her home in his truck.

Uncle Hal maneuvered his bay window from under the steering wheel and waddled to the back of the truck. Daddy stalked around from the other side. Next to Uncle Hal he looked nearly as underfed as Benny.

"We gotta be careful," Daddy said. "She ain't taking to us strangers too well."

"She looks crazy in her eyes," Uncle Hal poked a finger through a crack and the cow let out a low bellow. "She's scared silly. No telling what she'll do when we turn her loose. Might as well find out, though."

He let down the tail gate and untied the rope from her horns.

"You young'uns get out of the lot!" Daddy yelled at us. "She's upset enough to try to fight."

She came out snorting and pawing and went over the fence to the peanut patch just like it hadn't been there. Uncle Hal climbed the fence with considerable speed, considering his blubber, and took off to drive her back. Daddy ran to head her off the other way. They circled around her, intending to drive her back to the lot. But she was too up and scared. She lowered her head and pointed her long sharp horns straight toward Uncle Hal.

Despite his bulk, Uncle Hal ran. With his head back and his elbows punishing the spare tire around his middle, he plowed a path straight to the back field fence. He beat the cow there by several yards, but he didn't bother to climb. He fell over, leaving a good sized patch of his overalls on the barbed wire.

Old Bessie turned her attention to Daddy. He made it to the fence and grabbed a post and swung for safety just as Bessie's horns tangled in the wire below him.

THE COW was tangled in the wire and bucking. Uncle Hal was peeping from behind a nearby oak. The rest of us were atop fence posts.

Daddy was mad enough to shoot Bessie then and there, but she was a summer's profit. He couldn't afford to harm her or let her hurt herself. He hollered for Mama to send the wire pliers.

Before she could speak to one of the other boys Benny was half way to the house. And he took the pliers to Daddy.

"Watch that cow!" Daddy yelled at him. "She could make hash of you in no time!"

Benny went on. The cow had calmed down some and he got pretty close to her.

"Get back!" Uncle Hal yelled. "When a cow is that crazy—"

"She ain't skeered o' me, Daddy!" Benny reached out a hand and caressed the cow's quivering side. You could see her relaxing. He rubbed her back a minute and worked up to her shoulders. The restless hoof quit pawing and she stood there trembling while Benny tied a rope around her horns. Daddy started to cut the wire and she reared up again. So he went and leaned on Uncle Hal's oak and tossed the pliers back to Benny.

"All right, son. Cut her loose. She's all yours."

Benny roped her—by himself—and led her into the lot.

"Sure. Now can you stop thinking of your son as a coward and admit he has—ah—" Mama stopped and started turning pink. She was always mighty careful of what she said.

Daddy laughed at her. "Okay, Suzie. We'll call it intestinal fortitude."

Red Hair Brings Success in T. V., Survey Indicates

EVANSTON, Ill.—Even without color television, your chances of success are apparently assured on TV if you've got red hair.

At least that's what is indicated by the latest survey of television habits among students, parents, and teachers conducted by Dr. Paul Witte of Northwestern University's school of education.

Witte's third annual study, conducted in four of Chicago's larger suburbs, shows that top popularity ratings were given to "I Love Lucy," which stars auburn-haired Lucille Ball, comic "Red" Skelton, and red-headed Arthur Godfrey.

That's the way it went with children of elementary and high school age who gave Miss Ball and Skelton as their first two preferences respectively, and among the parents who voted Godfrey into the Number Two spot behind Lucy, the study shows.

The teachers showed their individuality and refused to follow the crowd, however. They said they preferred the news commentators (most of whom are brunettes) and put Miss Ball into fifth place—right after Clifton Utey.

Dr. Witte says there may be an explanation for the teachers' deviation in the fact that they report watching television an average of only 10 hours a week, while parents said they viewed an average of 21 hours and elementary school pupils reported an average of 23 hours. Evanston high school pupils averaged 14 hours a week in 1952, as compared with 12 in 1951.

Both parents and children increased the number of hours this year from 1951's 10 hours of viewing to 21 and 23 respectively, exploding the theory that television had dropped after the novelty had worn off.

St. Louis Woman Can't Lose Wallet

ST. LOUIS—It seems as if Mary Chapman can't keep her wallet for very long. Nor can she lose it for very long either.

The wallet was returned to the 17-year-old girl recently for the 20th time in the two years that she has owned it.

Mary has left the wallet on street cars, buses, trains, in restaurants, theaters and waiting rooms. The last time it and the $10 in it were mailed back to her.

Says Mary, "I guess I'm careless."

More Males Die From Cancer Than Females

NEW YORK, N.Y.—Except for early adult life, mortality from cancer among males is higher than among females, statisticians of a life insurance company said recently.

A study of deaths from malignant neoplasms (very largely cancers) among the company's industrial policyholders during 1950-1951 show that only between the ages of 25-44 do more women than men die from cancer. In the 45-54 age group the deaths are about equal, but at all other ages the male deaths are much higher.

Under age 25, the male cancer death rate was 19 percent above the female; in the 55-64 group the rate was 42 percent higher, and in the 65-74 group 48 percent higher.

Only in cancer of the breast and genital organs is the female death rate higher than the male. On the other hand, male mortality from cancer of the respiratory system is 7½ times that for females. The male death rate is also considerably higher from cancer of the urinary tract and the digestive organs.

"In the present state of knowledge, it is difficult to account for the sex differences in the mortality from the malignant neoplasms," the statisticians added.

Those Lost in Woods Usually in Beer Hall

AUGUSTA, Me.—More than half of the 140 persons reported lost annually in the Maine woods turn up in a beer parlor. So the first move of Chief Warden Lester E. Brown when someone is reported lost is to check the nearest suds dispensary.

"We've had many a wild goose chase in my time," he says. "A lot of those are because some guy tells his wife he's going hunting when actually he adjourns to the nearest beer parlor."

The 59-year-old former infantry colonel, who has made a lifelong specialty of finding strayed hunters, campers and fishermen, says the majority actually lost "put their lives on the line" because they fail to watch landmarks and fall again to "sit tight."

Mr. Brown said most of those who die in Maine's vast expanse of wilderness become panicky, alarm through the dense forest until they are exhausted, then freeze to death.

"Had one guy who was lost for nine days and came out healthy," the forester recalled. "Only reason he lived was because he didn't lose his head—just shot and ate raw partridge and waited. We found him."

NO CHANCES

Tony was having his second son christened and being very anxious to have his name recorded correctly on the birth certificate, remarked to the clergyman:

"Will ya please nama by babe same as I giva you?"

"Tony, why do you make such a request?" asked the clergyman.

"Well, you see—itsa like dis. My first boy I tella you I want heem christened 'Tom' and you putta Thomas on his paper. Now I wanta dis boy nama 'Jack' and no wanta heem nama 'Jackass'."

TALLEST DWARF

A circus side-show advertised a dwarf who was five feet in height. When a citizen expressed surprise to the proprietor, he replied, "That's the wonderful thing about him. He's the tallest dwarf in the world."

Foul Ball

An Englishman was once persuaded to see a game of baseball, and during the play, when he happened to look away for a moment, a foul tip caught him on the ear and knocked him senseless. On coming to himself, he asked faintly, "What was it?"

"A foul—only a foul!"

"Good heavens!" he exclaimed.

"A foul? I thought it was a mule."

Booby Prize?

Fond Mother—"Now that Harold is through college, are you going to take him into the business with you?"

Frank Father—"I dunno. Couldn't you use him for a bridge prize?"

LUCKY THIEVES

McTavish was homeward bound one night when he was waylaid by three thieves. He defended himself with great courage and obstinacy, and the struggle that followed was long and bloody. At length, however, he was overpowered. The thugs, anticipating a rich booty after the extraordinary resistance they had experienced, began to go through his pockets. They were baffled to find that the whole treasure which the Scot had been defending at the hazard of his life was a bent sixpence.

"Only a sixpence," exclaimed one of the disgusted rogues, nursing his bruises.

"Well, we're lucky at that," said another, "if he had had eighteenpence he would ha' killed all o' us."

CHUMMY CASTAWAYS

Four separate wrecks had cast up four men on a lonely island of the South Seas. There were two Scotchmen and two Englishmen. After several years a passing steamer hove to and took the four aboard. Sandy and Donald found their way to the skipper's cabin, and in telling their experiences Sandy said:

"It would grieve you, mon, to see the Englishmen. Never a word did they speak all the time they were there; they were not introduced."

"And hee did ye lads muck oot?" inquired the skipper.

"Aye, mon, the dee I found Donald on the beach we organized a Caledonian society, a golf club, and a Presbyterial church."

He'll Be Sorry

Willie (doing his homework)—"What is the distance to the nearest star, Daddy?"

"I'm sure I don't know, Willie."

"Well, I hope, then, you'll feel sorry tomorrow when I'm getting punished for your ignorance."

Say It With Flowers

"I say, George," said the young business man to his friend, "where do you buy your typewriter ribbons?"

"I don't," replied the other. "I usually buy her flowers."

BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

SCRIPTURE: Matthew 9. DEVOTIONAL READING: Ezekiel 31:11-16.

Compassion

ARE Americans becoming brutalized? Some thoughtful people believe we are. As Dr. Charles T. Leber reports, when his father and mother read the account of the sinking of the Lusitania back before World War I, they were so upset they could not eat. Now we can read about the destruction of an entire city and go right on eating breakfast.

We in America have not used the A-bomb and now we conceive the H-bomb. We train men to kill other men with jamming jellied gasoline, with knives with what-ever seems to be most usable and deadly. We kill people on the highways, or we don't do enough to keep them from killing themselves, in such quantities that we don't even read the newspaper reports about it unless some friend of ours happened to be in the smash. If as many people died in your town of polio, or of typhoid fever, as die in accidents, you would all be in almost a panic.

There is an old English word that is not used often nowadays. Maybe the reason it is seldom used is that the thing it means is seldom met with. It is the word "compassion." Literally, it means "suffering-with." When it is said by Matthew that Jesus had compassion on the crowds, it means literally that he knew how they felt, what they needed, where they hurt; and that in his own heart he suffered with them. Their needs were his needs, their pain his pain. That is compassion; but it is not yet the whole of it. There is something more. An artist (let us say a novelist) has to have compassion, of a sort. Many novels and stories have been written, for instance, about bullfighters, and some of the story-tellers have shown a high degree of imaginative power. You might almost fancy they had been bullfighters themselves, as to be sure some of them have been. But few if any of these story-writers have done anything to put a stop to the brutal sport of bull-fighting. They feel the tragedy of the whole business yet they do not propose to do anything about it. Compassion, as Jesus felt it, never was a mere emotion. It was emotion harnessed to action.

Tips on Traffic Safety

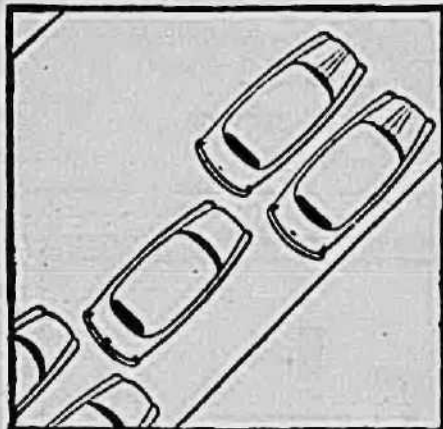

By
CHARLES F. CARPENTIER
Secretary of State

Parking on hills requires extra precautions. Runaway cars whose brakes have failed have caused many serious accidents, involving death and injury, which could have been avoided by the use of just a little extra care on the part of the driver when parking them.

down grade where there is a curb, the wheels should be turned toward the curb. On an up grade where there is a curb, the wheels should be turned away from the curb. In either case, if the car's brakes should fail, the vehicle would roll only a few inches before being stopped by the curb. In parking on an up grade where there is no curb, the wheels should be turned to the right. Then if the car starts to roll, it will back off the road and not be a hazard to traffic.

Traffic conditions are becoming more and more congested in most cities today, and one type of driver who aggravates an already bad situation is the one who straddles two traffic lanes, particularly when traffic is stopped. The fellow who "takes his half out of the middle" is taking up an amount of space that could normally accommodate two cars. He causes traffic to string out much farther behind than is necessary and adds to the congestion. Don't be a "straddler." Get your car in either the right hand lane or the left hand lane, and stay there until it becomes necessary for you to change lanes. When you do need to change lanes, change completely from one to the other. Don't stop half-way.

Coffee Hours Around The Clock

No beverage compares with good coffee in popularity in this country of ours. "Let's have a cup of coffee" rings out from coast to coast at any hour of the day or night. Making good coffee every time, not only is a mark of hospitality, but establishes a glamorous reputation for any homemaker with friends dropping in for a game of cards or to chat.

Instant coffee has really come into its own and is being used more and more in American homes as the family coffee for all occasions. Fresh and full-bodied coffee now can be on tap. No coffee grounds, no coffee-makers to wash and store and no waste!

For each cup needed at the coffee hour, just place one rounded teaspoon of instant coffee (more or less rounded according to desired strength) in the bottom of your coffemaker and add an equal number of cups of boiling water. Stir and serve. There will be shouts for seconds. Quick as a wink... you can serve flavorful coffee... piping hot and fresh... with no fuss or bother. You, too, can enjoy these coffee hours as a relaxed hostess.

You will want to serve cookies with the coffee sometimes and what is better to serve with coffee than home baked cookies. Here is a new kitchen tested recipe for an old favorite. The cookies have a true coffee flavor when instant coffee is used as a flavor ingredient.

Coffee Rum Cookies

- | | |
|----------------------------------|-----------------------------|
| 2 cups sifted flour | 1/2 cup shortening |
| 2 tablespoons Nescafé | 1/2 cup butter or margarine |
| 1/2 teaspoon baking powder | 1/2 cup brown sugar |
| 1/2 teaspoon baking soda | 1/2 cup granulated sugar |
| 1/2 teaspoon salt | 1 egg, well beaten |
| 1 teaspoon imitation rum extract | |

Mix and sift flour, instant coffee, baking powder, baking soda and salt. Cream shortening and butter or margarine; add sugars gradually, while creaming; beat until light; add egg and rum extract. Add sifted dry ingredients; blend thoroughly. Wrap in waxed paper or aluminum foil. Chill several hours. Roll out a small amount of dough at a time about 1/8 inch thick, on lightly floured board. Cut with a 2" cookie cutter. Decorate with nutmeats, if desired. Bake on ungreased cookie sheet in hot oven, 400°F., 8-10 minutes. Yield: about 3 dozen cookies. You can make refrigerator cookies with the same recipe. Form the dough into a roll, wrap in wax paper or aluminum foil and chill overnight. Then slice thin and bake, as wanted.

Cadmus

Cadmus was a prince of Phoenicia who slew a dragon and sowed its teeth. From these sprang armed men who fought together until only five were left. They, with Cadmus, founded Thebes. Cadmus is said to have introduced the alphabet into Greece.

Timely Tips

Christmas is for the children, they say, and certainly no one who has watched the youngsters' eyes glenn with joy on Christmas morn will deny this. But the child who also learns the true Christmas spirit of giving gains the greatest gift of all.

To impress the Christmas spirit upon your youngsters, let them become a part of the preparations. They can make Christmas cards for their own friends simply, with stickers or art cut from cards from previous years. Tree ornaments, too, can be fun in the making. As a beginning, let them make cut-outs from cards of yesteryears or from scraps of Christmas wrapping paper, so pretty when tied to the tree with colorful string. Angels and cones, more elaborate, are for the child with artistic trend.

HEALTH HINTS for LIVESTOCK

THE NEEDLE OFTEN A 2-EDGED SWORD

Some livestock raisers have had the misfortune to bring disease into their flocks and herds while trying to protect them.

Livestock health authorities say that improper use of live vaccines may easily cause disease outbreaks. What has happened in some cases is this: An area is free of a certain disease, yet wishing to be sure that his animals do not contract the disease, an owner vaccinates them with a living virus.

A healthy flock can be ruined by improper vaccination.

The result may be tragic. The vaccinated animals come down with the disease. It spreads to other animals, then to the neighbors' stock.

Why does this happen? Because the vaccinating needle is a two-edged sword. When used by a person who has had long scientific training and experience, it saves lives. When used improperly, it can be a dangerous instrument of destruction.

Unskilled vaccination is believed to have been responsible for numerous outbreaks of anaplasmosis, hog cholera, malignant edema. Mistaken use of Newcastle and fowl pox vaccines can also bring serious losses in poultry flocks.

There are many factors to be taken into account before animals or birds are vaccinated. Are the animals in good enough condition to be vaccinated without ill effects? Is the vaccine potent, or has it deteriorated? What is the proper dosage? What precautions should be taken to insure that the vaccination will "take"? Have the instruments been scientifically sterilized to avoid infecting the rest of the herd from an unsuspected disease carrier?

Only the veterinarian usually has the experience and training to properly answer these highly important questions.

Stain Removal
If you have a tablecloth that has been stained with tea or coffee, remove these stains by rubbing with glycerin and let the cloth stand a few minutes. Then wash as usual with soap and warm water.

Slim Chance
A match manufacturer in Chicago hired an investigator to make a study of discarded match books, and he reported that the chance of finding a good match in a discarded cover was only one in 18,000.

Stew and Stain
If you have an aluminum pan that's stained, stew some tomatoes in it and the stain will disappear.
